We've worked with Goram Homes to create One Lockleaze

Goram Homes works in partnership with developers like us to build sustainable homes that create thriving communities, respect the environment, and support the local economy too.

Goram Homes was set up by Bristol City Council and plans to build more than three thousand homes across the city over the coming years, almost half of which will be 'affordable'. This means homes for social rent through the council or a housing association, and homes for shared ownership.

Here at our One Lockleaze development, we've worked together to create a thriving new neighbourhood of bespoke homes in green and surroundings.

Goram Homes sets the highest standards of design and construction, and is passionate about developments that benefit people and planet

We've built eco-focussed homes on this development that are highly energy efficient - helping to lower energy bills for new homeowners and lower their impact on the environment too. Central to One Lockleaze will be a community park that creates a wildlife corridor from neighbouring Stoke Park through to Concorde Way. Goram Homes also works with the community to support the local area wherever it builds. We've worked in partnership to fund local wildlife projects with The Conservation Volunteers and set up a Skills Academy, providing on-site training to local people that will kickstart careers in construction.

And because Goram Homes is owned by Bristol City Council, a portion of the money made once homes are sold will be invested back into the city.

Environment & Social responsibility

The ways Linden Homes are helping socially and with the environment.

Biodiversity

At Linden Homes we see biodiversity as an increasingly important issue and strive to not only mitigate our impacts in this area but also to positively encourage biodiversity where we can.

To do this we first conduct extensive pre-construction ecology assessments. These assessments evaluate the suitability of habitats for protected species and log proposals to mitigate the impact of our developments more generally.

Hedgehog highways

Linden Homes have joined forces with the British Hedgehog Preservation Society (BHPS) to become the first housebuilder to install hedgehog highways on all developments.

As part of our ongoing partnership with the BHPS we have also donated £5,000, will build hedgehog homes in open green spaces and will work with the BHPS to provide our customers with literature on helping hedgehogs.

Social

We understand that if we are to deliver houses that not only meet the aspirations of those who seek to live in them but also enhance the existing neighbourhood, then we need to talk to and engage with local people - residents, businesses and their elected representatives.

Charitable giving

Linden Homes regularly supports charitable fundraising events and local sponsorship opportunities.

Causes supported include schools and school fetes, local sports clubs, hospitals and hospices, roundtables, elderly care, local community initiatives and other local and national charities. These are managed by each regional business to ensure that local causes and charities important to staff and the communities in which we build in are given priority.
